Teacher of English

PANGBOURNE

— Independent, co-educational day and boarding school, ages 11-18 —

Mr Oliver Knight – Head

I joined Pangbourne in September 2024 and have had the pleasure of working with an incredibly talented and dedicated staff and Board of Governors to drive forward my vision for the school.

Pangbourne is my fourth headship and all three of my previous headships were at inner-London state schools which I transformed by driving up the educational standards. I am passionate about bringing the best from the state sector and combining it with the independent school model to ensure the best possible education and opportunities for all pupils at Pangbourne.

My two passions in life are education and the outdoors. Pangbourne enables me to combine these into the uniqueness of a Pangbournian education through access to our world-class adventure facilities set within our 230 acre site. This enables us to create an academic ethos underpinned by an adventurous spirit; where risk, failure and uncertainty are daily experiences.

It is no longer enough for pupils to just achieve great academic outcomes. As staff, we work together to ensure that pupils are prepared for not just success in school but also success in life. Our aim is to educate pupils to be a force for good in an imperfect world.

I am in the process of implementing our Campus 2030 plans and would be delighted if you applied to join me on this exciting journey for the future vision of the College.

With best wishes

Mr Oliver Knight, Head

About Pangbourne

With over 30 years of co-educational experience, Pangbourne College is an independent day and boarding school for girls and boys aged 11-18 years, set in over 230 acres of Berkshire's Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, with the best four mile stretch of rowing river in the country.

There are four pillars that develop and sustain a Pangbourne education: Academic Rigour, Exploration, Community and Leadership. These four components ensure all our students develop the attitudes, skills and behaviours that underpin success at school and in life. We empower each individual to fulfil their potential and develop the confidence, values and skills to make a positive difference to the world.

Pangbourne was established in 1917 as 'The Nautical College, Pangbourne' with a vision to train boys to become Merchant Navy Officers. In 1969 the College adopted the name it has today and shifted its focus to an academic education, becoming fully co-educational in 1996. Pangbourne College is not a military school and only two or three of our leavers each year go into the armed forces, but we do proudly pay tribute to our naval roots through preserving a number of traditions.

The eight Flag Values of Kindness, Resilience, Selflessness, Moral Courage, Integrity, Initiative, Industry and Respect underpin everything we do as a nurturing, pupil-centred community.

Department overview

ENGLISH

Our English Department is comprised of six experienced teachers. Their expertise extends well beyond the classroom — serving as senior and pastoral leads, supporting adventure programmes, and teaching within the Media department. It is this adeptness that enriches our curriculum and adds immense value to English at Pangbourne.

Pupils study Pearson IGCSE English Language and Literature. A key advantage of our curriculum is the coursework component, which allows students to refine their writing through a process of drafting and feedback. At Sixth Form, English remains a popular choice. Following the Edexcel specification, students study the Romanticism of Keats, the tragic intensity of Shakespeare's Othello and the modern themes of contemporary fiction like Kamila Shamsie's Home Fire.

We believe that English is a living, breathing subject. We expect our students to engage with the subject beyond the syllabus, contributing to a vibrant academic culture through:

- Trips and Visits: Regular excursions to the theatre and literary landmarks to see texts performed and contextualised.
- National Competitions: Opportunities to enter national creative writing and debating competitions to test skills on a wider stage.
- Inspirational Talks: Strong links with other schools and academic institutions, hosting guest speakers and attending relevant literary lectures to broaden students' horizons.

Continuous Professional Development (CPD) is a priority for our staff, ensuring our teaching habits remain at the cutting edge of educational research and literary criticism.

Job role

- To teach English to pupils at all levels of the College, and to play a part in their wider development by being a Tutor (pro-rata expectation).
- This is an ideal opportunity for an ECT to establish themselves as a teacher, or for a more experienced teacher to teach English to GCSE who is looking to further their practice and develop their career within a strong department.
- Full support and mentoring is given to those new to the profession, we have had much success in inducting new teachers.
- You will be an excellent classroom practitioner and bring passion and enthusiasm for the subject. You will be able to teach lessons which enable pupils of all ability levels to make excellent progress.
- Track student progress and skill development, intervening where necessary to ensure that all students are engaged in their learning journey.
- Be a Tutor responsible to the relevant year group or division for the academic progress and/or pastoral care of a group of pupils.
- Encourage the close alignment between academic and pastoral sides of school life.
- You will be expected to fully contribute to the wider life of the College by supporting the extra-curricular activities and the boarding programme.

Duties and responsibilities of all teachers:

- Adopting the Pangbourne Teacher Habits to maintain an evidence-led model of instruction.
- Following the appropriate schemes of work.
- Maintaining discipline within their classroom and the department.
- Regular setting of class work and preps.
- Regular marking and assessment of students' work
- Maintaining records of lessons taught and students' marks.
- Meeting assessment and reporting deadlines.
- Attending parents' meetings.
- Running academic support clinics.
- Setting appropriate work in the case of absence.
- Maintaining classroom equipment.
- Maintaining good quality classroom displays and contributing to departmental display areas.
- Supporting and helping other members of the department.
- Attending INSET or courses for professional development and generally keeping up to date with the subject and current developments/teaching techniques, feeding back to the department where relevant.
- Setting and marking internal examinations as agreed.
- Involvement in department tours and trips.
- Act as a Tutor to a small group (about 10) of pupils.
- Willingness to engage in and develop extra-curricular activities
- Complying with health and safety issues within the Science Department, reporting any faults immediately.
